Allied Troops Retake Pichon From Rommel

American Troops Push Eastward To Enter Faid Pass Again

BRITISH GIVE UP SEDJENANE HOLD

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, in North Africa, March 6.—Allied troops today recaptured the central Tunisian town of Pichon, surrendered by French troops when Nazi Marshal Erwin Rommel launched his North African offensive three weeks ago tomorrow.

At the same time, reports from the battlefield said that American forces which stormed the village of Sidi Bou Zid have pushed eastward to enter strategic Faid Pass and engage the Axis rear guard.

While the situation at Pichon and Sidi Bou Zid improved, the Allied outlook in northern Tunisia worsened. British troops which grappled throughout yesterday with German forces in the town of Sedjenane on the road to Bizerte were compelled to relinquish their hold and fell back seven miles to Tanera.

A hull has developed in the fighting in northern Tunisia following the bloody and savage combats of the past week. The Germans now hold the town of Sedjenane after a series of heavy street battles, but this gain is not considered of great importance.

The Germans also continue to occupy the heights three miles north of Medjez-El-Bab despite constant British artillery fire.

A small-scale German attack on the Beja-Mateur road, 10 miles northeast of Beja, was repulsed.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Next Friday, March 12, is the Hints and Dints man's birthday and children who are born on this date are fortunate indeed, because the Hints and Dints man remembers the event with $5 for each baby born in Lawrence County. In case of twins, triplets, quadruplets, etc., the amount of the gift is increased accordingly.

Anyone who thought that Old Man Winter had lost his kick got a surprise this morning. A heavy snow, coming in from the east, made travel difficult and provided a lot more snow shovelling for many residents. During the morning the snow turned to rain, and slushy conditions began to develop.

While the weather conditions have been rather discouraging for the garden enthusiasts, nevertheless, a host of local gardeners are ready to get going the first day that the weather breaks and indicates approach of spring.

Auto travel seems to be increasing somewhat in New Castle and Lawrence county in the past week. The no-pleasure travel ban still exists, although it has been announced that police enforcement of the order has been discontinued.

Church attendance will probably begin the annual pre-Easter period increase at the services on Sunday. Any church in the city or district will welcome you.

Daily Weather Report

United States weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at nine a. m. today are as follows:
Maximum temperature, 34.
Minimum temperature, 27.
Precipitation, .29 inches, three inches snow.
River stage, 5.5 feet.

Statistics for the same date a year ago follow:
Maximum temperature, 45.
Minimum temperature, 28.
Precipitation, .03 inches.

Allies Regain Area In Africa

Most of the ground lost by the Allies when the Afrika Korps went on the offensive recently in Tunisia now has been regained by American and Allied troops. This map indicates how the Allies near Faid Pass, their original line, and are approaching Gafsa. Meanwhile, a Fighting French camel corps had pushed its way northward to Nefta and the British Eighth Army still faces the Mareth Line, engaging in patrol activities.

Attack On Japanese Armada Well Planned

By EARL MARCKRES
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, March 6.—Lieut. Gen. George C. Kenney, chief of allied air forces in the southwest Pacific, was revealed today as the guiding genius of the brilliant U. S. air victory over a 22-ship Japanese armada off New Guinea.

Describing the amazing feat as "a perfectly planned enterprise, perfectly executed," Assistant Secretary of War for Air Robert A. Lovett said that Gen. Kenney had been perfecting such a smashing attack for several months.

"Waiting For Chance"
"A short time ago," Lovett said, "Gen. Kenney was waiting for a chance to strike. This was the chance he was waiting for."

For once, he had enough planes in the proper places at the proper time. It was a matter of a job. As a brilliant victory it will rank with the battle of Britain in defense and the battle of Midway in technique.

Lovett paid his tribute to Gen. Kenney at a press conference in which a detailed, play-by-play account was given of the four-day (Continued On Page Two)

WARNS GAS ATTACKS MAY BE EXPECTED ON EAST COAST CITIES

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, March 6.—Residents of New York and other eastern seaboard cities today were warned that they might not only expect bombings but also gas attacks on large population centers.

Trans-Atlantic forays by Axis planes not only are possible but also "probable," Maj. John L. Cummings, of the U. S. Army's chemical warfare school at Amherst, Mass., said. Maj. Cummings asserted that a chemical assault might be expected.

CHARTER STREET CAR FOR PROM BREAKFAST

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 6.—The war has brought some strange business to the Pittsburgh Railways company these days.

Last week a wedding party chartered a street car for a cross-town jaunt to the church and back.

Last night, the girls from Pennsylvania College for Women chartered a street car to haul them and their dates from the junior prom in Oakland to the college for breakfast. That solved the problem of obeying the pleasure-driving ban in both instances.

Four-Alarm Blaze In Downtown District Results In $40,000 Damages

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 6.—A spectacular, four alarm fire caused $40,000 damage to a century-old landmark in downtown Pittsburgh early today. Two firemen, overcome by smoke, were hospitalized, and four others were treated for minor injuries.

The fire apparently started on the top floor of the four-story building owned by the Pittsburgh Coal Company at Market and Water streets, and spread down an elevator shaft. Twenty fire companies were called out to battle the flames.

A wet, heavy snowfall and fear that a huge, 30-ton sign atop the building might topple hampered the firemen in their work. Roomers in an adjoining building were forced to flee. Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

The building was occupied by the Federal Supply Company, the river division of Pittsburgh Coal, and the accounting department of Montour Railroad.

Six More Zeroes Downed Over Lae

(International News Service)
SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, March 4.—Delayed.—The fearless lads who fly our Lightning fighters got six more Zeroes today in a furious half-hour dogfight over Lae. One unit, which bagged ten yesterday, got four more today, and raised its total of enemy planes destroyed to around 80.

Lieut. Ken Sparks held the spotlight today by shooting down two enemy fighters. He now has a count of nine and is in a tie with Capt. Tom Lynch of Catsquua, Pa., as the second ranking ace in the Southwest Pacific air force.

PROGRAM OF 1942 TAX UNDECIDED

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 6.—With a collection-at-the-source tax program virtually completed, the House Ways and Means Committee on Monday will be asked to defer the question of forgiving 1942 tax liabilities until the treasury submits its proposals for raising additional revenue later this year.

At the same time, the membership will receive the draft of a bill to place taxpayers on a current basis by imposing a 20 per cent withholding levy on all paychecks July 1, while requiring all other persons, farmers excepted, to pay quarterly after that date.

Rep. Knutson of Minnesota, a ranking Republican on the committee, announced today that he would make a motion to start the collections as proposed, but delay the question of forgiveness "until we can find out how much additional money we are expected to raise."

The Minnesota member is suggesting that all collections this year be credited to 1943 liabilities instead of against those of 1942 until it can be determined what to do about 1942 indebtedness.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The Senate Truman Committee today moved into the immoderate congressional squabble over manpower in an effort to develop a comprehensive program for the support of armed forces of 11,000,000 men.

Top-flight industrialists, such as Shipbuilder Henry J. Kaiser, and Lieut. Gen. William S. Knudsen as well as War Production Chairman Donald M. Nelson, Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt and other high government officials will be summoned before the committee.

"We will start on Monday with the premise that the armed forces will be 11,000,000 men and we will try to find out how best to utilize labor to support them," a committee official explained.

Program Scope

The investigation program will embrace:

- 1. Lengthening of work-week in war industries.
- 2. Cures for absenteeism, increasing production per worker and training of supervisors and personnel.
- 3. Restrictions necessary on civilian industry, and how to shift workers into war industries.

LONDON, March 6.—A mighty battle that probably will decide the fate of Tunisia is imminent, reports reaching London from the African battlefield declared today.

Military observers here pointed out that the Allied air force is in position now to co-operate closely with the ground forces from bases in Malta, in Tripoli and from fields behind the First Army lines in northern Tunisia and behind the American and French positions on the central front.

Two-Day Advance Clears Enemy Troops From 132 Towns And Villages

RUSSIANS CAPTURE MORE WAR MATERIALS

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, March 6.—Soviet armies stormed ahead beyond the fallen city of Rzhev today, continuing a two-day advance which has cleared enemy troops from 132 towns and villages. The Russian midday communiqué reported capture of 30 additional towns in the smashes south and southwest of Rzhev.

In the advance Russian units forced a crossing of the Osuga river and occupied the railway station in the town of Osuga after stubborn, bloody fighting in which 800 Germans were annihilated.

A considerable quantity of war materials fell into the hands of the Russians as the enemy was driven from the town. Booty included 57 tanks, 3 airplanes, eight big guns and large numbers of machine guns and mortars.

Essen Is Bombed In Nightly German Raid

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, March 6.—Striking hard at Germany for the tenth consecutive night, British bombers made a heavy, concentrated attack on the industrial city of Essen, the air ministry announced today.

Fourteen of the RAF planes failed to return, indicating that the attack was carried out by a force of 250 to 300 of Britain's biggest bombers.

Other RAF formations bombed targets on the French coast during the night and early morning hours. Tremendous explosions were heard in the Dunkirk area. The force of the attack was indicated by the fact that buildings shook and windows rattled in southeast English coast towns.

The night attack followed daylight sweeps by Spitfires and Typhoons of the fighter command. They ranged over the Dutch coast, sinking two German torpedo boats and heavily damaging two others.

American Flying Fortress crews which attacked the west German rail center of Hamm and Rotterdam in the Netherlands on Thursday reported that they had met strong and furious enemy opposition.

"The anti-aircraft fire was heavy and accurate, and the German fighters were the most daring of the craziest I have ever seen," said one American pilot.

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, March 6.—The victorious Allied air force which demolished the Japanese invasion fleet off New Guinea is not resting on its laurels but has resumed devastating raids on enemy bases, a communiqué from General MacArthur's headquarters reported today.

Lae and Saumlaki on the northeast coast of New Guinea, and Gasmata, on the southern coast of New Britain Island, were smashed in a series of raids while long-range fighter and bomber units swept the Huon Gulf in final mopping-up operations against lifeboats and rafts which carried the few survivors of the smashed invasion force.

"Their efforts to escape were largely fruitless and practically all were destroyed," said the communiqué. "There was scarcely a single survivor, so far as is known."

CAIRO, March 6.—The south Italian port of Naples was heavily bombed Thursday night by Allied heavy bombers, the Middle East Command announced today.

The attack was concentrated on the harbor district and direct hits on the target area started a number of large fires.

One bomber was missing. "In the past attacks on Naples and other south Italian points have been made by American Liberators and Flying Fortresses."

Two Large Jap Destroyers Lost In Attempt To Halt U. S. Fleet Units

NO U. S. VESSELS LOST IN BATTLE

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Reporting the first Solomon sea battle since Nov. 30, the navy announced today that American warships sank two large Japanese destroyers attempting to intercept Yankee fleet units as they bombarded enemy bases at Munda and Vila in the central Solomons.

The action occurred last Thursday night (Washington time) when light American surface vessels moved into bombard Japanese installations in the central Solomons, 180 miles northwest of Guadalcanal.

"Light Japanese surface forces attempted to drive off our bombardment group and two large enemy destroyers were sunk during the engagement. No U. S. vessels were lost," the navy said.

The navy gave no details on the size of the two task forces out presumably they were composed of large and small destroyers and possibly light cruisers.

Montgomery Has Enemy Baffled

British Leader Before Mareth Line Is Shrewd Tactician In Warfare

By GEORGE LAIT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE BRITISH EIGHTH ARMY IN SOUTHERN TUNISIA, March 3.—Delayed.—Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's watchful waiting before the Mareth line has baffled the enemy. The tough little British battler is a shrewd tactician.

He doesn't telegraph his punches and the Germans and Italians waiting nervously in their fortified positions must be expecting an attack momentarily. Their reconnaissance planes doubtless have spotted and counted the huge convoys moving up behind the Allied lines on every road, day and night.

They must know that Montgomery is getting a lot of "stuff" he needs to strike his powerful blows, and that knowledge must make them jittery. He is giving unmistakable signs of a bad case of "nerves."

For example, before dawn today the Germans sent out an unusually heavy infantry patrol to probe one area of the Allied line. Incidentally, there was nothing in the area, so, because it is marshland and untenable.

But Jerry was curious, nevertheless, and suspected something. So (Continued On Page Two)

ALL AMERICANS IN SHANGHAI ARE INTERNED

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Japan's mass internment of nearly 1,500 Americans in Shanghai today found the American government helpless to take any effective action in their behalf.

Japan is considered within its rights in internment of the Americans, nationals caught in China by the war, but as the American government has interned Japanese citizens in this country.

Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles said no diplomatic representations are being made in connection with Japan's action.

However, the American government is watching the situation closely with a view of swift action if there is any mistreatment of the American men, women or children who have been interned.

There are strong indications that any mistreatment of the Americans will be followed by prompt retaliatory action against the Japanese held in this country.

Internment of the Americans in Shanghai has been a gradual process. The Japanese first rounded up all American men of military age. Then they started interning the older men, and finally the women and children now practically all the 1,500 in Shanghai have been interned.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The German wireless reported today that Archbishop Francis J. Spellman of New York has arrived at Gibraltar on his way home to the United States.

The weather is a military secret, at least the forecasts are not given out. But in these parts it's wet today, I gather, and it is raining hard or thereabouts. A lot of snow and then some drizzling rain will, then, sidewalks up to ankle depth in slush, and on the streets a dirty gooey puddle about the look of mud bespattered mush. It's damp or rather wet and getting wetter, but weather of today is hardly fun, but it is still a military secret of what will come, the weather's forty-one.

Miners Demand $2 Wage Increase

Hard Coal Miners Vote To Demand Big Boost In Pay

(International News Service)
SCRANTON, Pa., March 6.—Hard coal miners returned to their homes today after voting to demand a two dollar daily wage increase from coal operators with the closing day of their anthracite convention punctuated by an attack on President Roosevelt by John L. Lewis.
The head of the United Mine Workers of America told the miners, in reply to a query, that the president was to blame because they did not receive overtime pay for working Saturdays, except as the sixth working day of the week.
"This is not the fault of your organization," asserted Lewis. "It is the fault of the executive order of your president."
The mine union leader assured the 300 delegates, representing 90,000 miners in the three union districts of northeastern Pennsylvania's hard coal fields, that when negotiations were opened this month for a new contract with the coal producers he would insist on time and a half pay on Saturdays and double time for Sundays, regardless of the number of days worked previously in the week. Both demands were voted by the delegates before they adjourned the tri-district convention after three days of sessions.

U. S. WAR PRODUCTION MAKES HUGE STRIDES

submarines. In addition, Knox said that 100 large and 600 small landing boats were built in the same period.
Huge Increase
The February warship production total is more than twice the number of U. S. naval vessels of all types lost to date in the Pacific conflict. To date, America has lost less than 100 naval vessels of which 70 were in the Pacific.
Augmenting this fighting ship program, the maritime commission revealed that 130 merchant vessels also were built in February—ships needed to transport supplies and reinforcements to the fighting fronts.
Delivery of more than 700 fighter planes and bombers to the navy in one month also is important, inasmuch as aircraft now are carrying out an offensive throughout the Pacific with remarkable results.
In addition, about 700 other planes, presumably trainers and cargo craft, also were built.
The new destroyer-escort vessels are expected to play an important role soon in America's campaign to smash the Axis U-boat menace in the Atlantic.
According to Knox, the new "baby battleships" will be armed with guns heavy enough to fight it out with submarines on the surface. They also will be equipped with anti-aircraft guns, depth charges and torpedo tubes.
Some of the new warships also have been delivered, and it is expected that soon a steady stream of them will be flowing toward U-boat infested waters. Building time for one of these is four months.

SINKINGS OCCUR IN ENGAGEMENT NEAR MUNDA BASE

no Jap opposition was reported.
The navy also reported that American aircraft bombed Munda for the 84th time the day preceding the sea battle and that other U. S. planes struck at the important Jap base of Buin in the northern Solomons. Results were not reported.
The latest American sea victory raised to 62 the number of Japanese warships and other vessels sunk in the Solomons campaign. In addition 11 have been listed as probably sunk and 116 damaged for a grand total of 188. That toll does not include the 22 Jap ships sunk by General Douglas MacArthur's airmen in the Bismarck Sea recently.
Although there has been bitter fighting between planes and warships in the Solomons, there has been no action between warships since the battle of Lunga Point the night of Nov. 30.
In the Lunga battle the U. S. lost the cruiser Northampton while the Japanese lost six destroyers, two troop transports, and one cargo ship.

VICTORIOUS AMERICAN AIR FORCE CONTINUE TO BLAST NEW GUINEA

series of sweeps by fighters, and medium, light and heavy bombers.
Large Fires Started
Fires were started which were visible for 40 miles as bombs fell on the town through the day, smashing the airfield, warehouses and troop huts.
The Japanese made a weak effort to intercept the Allied attacks and lost three planes.
Lae showed signs of weakening under the prolonged bombings. Its importance in the Japanese scheme was attested by the fact that the enemy risked 22 ships in the futile effort to land 15,000 reinforcements.
This abortive attempt came to an untimely end on Thursday when two destroyers, which had escaped destruction in attacks of the previous three days, were cornered by Allied bombers and sunk under a rain of explosives.
Loss To Japs Heavy
The full import of the sweeping Allied victory is just beginning to be understood. The first reaction was largely one of relief that the threat of invasion of Australia has been removed.
Then the public began to estimate the other results. The loss of ships was severe and will be felt acutely by the enemy. The 10 warships and 12 cargo ships, totalling 90,000 tons, cannot be replaced easily. The Japanese high command probably rates the loss of shipping as of much greater importance than the loss of 15,000 troops.
Japan's supply of troops is ample. Her shipping resources are strictly limited.
Had the convoy succeeded in reaching Lae the enemy would have been in position to take the offensive against American and Australian forces pressing along the coast from the Buna area.
Since last August, when American Marines stormed the Japanese base at Guadalcanal, the Japanese have lost 50 warships and 116 transport and cargo vessels in the Solomons and New Guinea areas.

running air-sea battle fought in the Bismarck Sea.
Emphasizing that the smashing victory was "an American show throughout," Lovett disclosed that U. S. heavy, medium and light bombers, and single-seat fighters, all land-based, carried the brunt of battle. In early reconnaissance, they were joined by American-made long-range Catalinas, while Beaufighters aided in mopping up operations. Both these aircraft were manned by Australians.
High Accuracy
Specific American planes participating in the action were B-17 Flying Fortresses, B-24 Liberator heavy bombers, B-25 Mitchell medium bombers, A-20 light bombers, P-38 twin-engine fighters and P-40 Warhawk fighters.
Lovett stressed the high degree of accuracy attained by American bombers in destroying 22 Jap ships, 55 aircraft and killing 15,000 troops. In hurling a "heavy mass of aircraft against the mass of enemy shipping," Lovett said that Gen. Kenney operated according to a carefully preconceived plan.
"When American reconnaissance reported the enemy approach," Lovett explained, "Gen. Kenney sent his heavy B-17s out to scatter the convoy, then followed it up with heavy blows by the B-25s, A-20s and fighters."
"The success of this plan can be judged by the fact that the B-17s completely broke up the convoy the first day, then went on the next day to bomb the remnants."
Lovett emphasized that the enemy convoy debacle was the result of highly coordinated teamwork by U. S. air units. Asked what salient points might be drawn from the campaign Lovett replied:
"The outstanding lesson is that if you use air power properly, you will get dividends."

COURT ORDER FORCES CIRCUS TO CONTINUE

Defense Council Representatives Secure Court Order In Fund Controversy

In an equity proceeding filed before Judge John G. Lamoree late Friday, the New Castle Local Council of Defense, through Presley N. Jones, chairman of the Local Council of Defense, Circuit Court, Councilman D. O. Davies, chairman of the New Castle council secured an order, commanding L. C. Miller and George P. Miller, managers of the circus playing the Cathedral to put the show on Friday night and today. The order includes a preliminary injunction ordering all monies taken in to be held until some adjudication can be had on the expenditures of the money.
The case sets out that on December 11, 1942, Presley N. Jones entered into a contract with L. C. Miller in which it was agreed that a circus would be presented here March 1 to 6 under the auspices of the New Castle Local Council of Defense.
In the contract it was stipulated that the first $1500 to be taken out of the proceeds from the sale of advertising and tickets was to go to the payment of local expenses, barring the paying of twenty-five per cent commission to agents selling the advertising. The next $4000 was to go to the circus for its expenses in presenting and maintaining the show.
It is averred that all money taken in was to be put into a bank account and supervision over the expenditures would be jointly supervised. It was averred that Miller took charge of all box office receipts and has made no accounting of the funds save for $193 which is left in the box office, $102.06 turned over by Miller and $84.42 in the treasury.
It is averred that Miller did unlawfully divert to his own use $580.03 which he refused to pay into the joint fund. It also sets out that some of the acts have not got their money and have refused to go on with their acts.
In his order Judge Lamoree ordered L. C. Miller to present the show Friday night (which was done) and today and this evening. It also orders Miller not to divert any of the money taken in for the payment of anything until a hearing can be had upon the case on Monday morning March 8 at nine o'clock.

ity. Others have suggested that only part of the liability be abated.
"If we are going to forgive all of the 1942 liability, which the treasury opposes, then whatever we collect in 1942 in addition to withholding taxes this year will be increased taxes," Knutson said.
"President Roosevelt has asked for $16,000,000,000 additional revenue this year. The proper time to consider this forgiveness question is during consideration of a revenue bill."
Program Formulated
The collection-at-the-source bill was formulated by a subcommittee and announced in full late yesterday. It provides:
1. That a 20 per cent levy, after exemption of $28 a week for married persons, $11 for single and $8 for each dependent, will be deducted weekly from paychecks, soldiers, domestics and farm hands excepted.
2. That farmers pay two-thirds of their tax liability before the end of each year, the balance the following March 15.
3. That all other persons, including soldiers, domestics and farm hands, pay quarterly, with the return (on an estimated basis) to be filed and paid not later than one month after the end of each quarter during the year.
Some members of the committee were of the opinion that before the bill is finally reported all persons in the armed services below the higher ranks will be declared completely exempt from taxes until out of uniform. Knutson, for one, said he favored it, and he expressed belief that there were many on the committee who feel as he does.

Plans are completed for the bi-weekly meeting of the Current Events class members to be held on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. L. H. Gordon, 218 East Leasure avenue.

Friendly Friends Club

Mrs. William Whiteford, of Smithfield street, entertained in her home Friday evening members of the Friendly Friends club. In the 500 contests Mrs. Lee Cooper and Mrs. Frank Calvert were the prize-winners.

Special guests included Mrs. Clara Rotunno, Mrs. Virginia Leeper, Mrs. Vera McClelland and Mrs. Carrie Calvert. The latter won the guest token, and the door award fell to Mrs. Frank Kelly.

Lunch was served.

In two weeks Mrs. Otto Kumrow, of 412 West Cherry street, will entertain.

Missionary Society

Members of the Women's Missionary society, Central Presbyterian church, met Friday afternoon in the church parlors. After Mrs. D. A. Thompson led devotions, Mrs. Raymond Williams discussed the foreign topic and Mrs. C. R. McClelland discussed the national topic.

Delegates appointed to Shenango Presbyterial to meet Wednesday, March 31, in Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, are Mrs. Badger and Mrs. Grant Fisher.

The hostesses, Mrs. Etta Mathias and Mrs. Jennie Offutt, served lunch.

You-Name-It Club

Mrs. Victor Shirk, of New Castle, R. D. 3, was hostess to members of the You-Name-It club at a patio Friday night. Mrs. William Rowe, Mrs. John Browning, Jr., and Mrs. Richard Beckap were prize-winners in contests.

A dainty repast was enjoyed. Next meeting, on March 19, in the home of Mrs. John Downing, Jr., 213 Grant street, with Mrs. Peter Fisher, hostess.

F. F. Club Guests

In the home of Mrs. Edward Malley, East Brook, the F. F. club members gathered for a social time when she entertained jointly with Miss Anita Audia.

Cards provided the pastime, with Mrs. David DePore and Mrs. William DeCarbo capturing the prizes. The serving of a tasty repast was the concluding feature.

Plans were made to meet on March 16 with Mrs. David DePore on Mill street.

Auxiliary Carra Honored

Auxiliary Anna Carra, daughter of Gino Carra of 14 Walter street, was honored at a 6 o'clock dinner on Friday evening in the Y. W. C. A. when co-workers of the Shenango Pottery gathered to tender her a farewell dinner.

After the serving of a delicious menu a handsome gift of luggage was presented to the honoree.

Auxiliary Carra leaves Tuesday, March 9, for Daytona Beach, Fla., where she will train as a WAAC.

Ye Country Club

Mrs. William Morgan of the Wilmington road was hostess recently to members of Ye Country club, entertaining informally with tables of 500.

Mrs. William Murphy, Mrs. Samuel Jackson and Mrs. Harry Haltman were the prize winners. The group was served a dainty repast, with Mrs. William Munty and Mrs. Jackson aiding the hostess.

March 19 the club will meet with Mrs. Jackson on Wallace avenue.

Macon Bridge Club

Macon Bridge club met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Oscar Saul, Cunningham avenue, for three tables of bridge.

High score winners were Mrs. George McConnell and Mrs. Lucy Covert, with the gallop going to Mrs. D. R. Harris. One special guest was present, Mrs. Claire Haid.

Next meeting will be March 19 at the home of Mrs. George McConnell, East Washington street, will entertain.

Section E Meeting

Mrs. James Shaw of East Washington street entertained Section E members in her home Friday afternoon. She led the devotional period, and following a routine period refreshments were served. Aides included Mrs. Frew Book and Mrs. John Newell.

In three weeks Mrs. Frew Book, East Washington street, will entertain.

1935 Club Meeting

A dinner-theater party was enjoyed by the 1935 club membership Friday evening, festivities beginning with the serving of a delicious menu at 7 o'clock.

March 26, Mrs. Harry Gere of Glenmore Boulevard, will entertain.

(Monday)

Current Events, Mrs. Louis H. Gordon, 218 East Leasure avenue. Current Events '06, Mary Moorhead, 409 South Pine street.

Members of the Round-Up club will have a ravioli supper in charge Monday evening at eight o'clock in the club rooms, South Mill street. Mrs. Clotilda Ross in charge of the dinner.

T. L. T. Kensington

Mrs. J. R. Wimer of Ray street will extend the hospitality of her home to the T. L. T. Kensington members Tuesday evening with Mrs. Eva Wimer hostess in charge.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. Paul Lombardo, of Lutton street, who has been ill this week at her home, is showing improvement.

Mrs. Anna M. Hoyland, of Wilmington road, who underwent an operation at the Jameson Memorial Hospital is improving.

Miss Mary Forbes of 128 Quest street, who has been confined to her home by illness, has recovered and is able to be out.

Mrs. Arthur B. Harris of 812 Young street has been called to Hawthorne, N. J., by the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Margaret Monday.

Mrs. Mary Clinman, 1008 Wilmington avenue, is getting along as well as could be expected after undergoing a serious operation in New Castle hospital.

The condition of Mrs. Charles Gaston, confined to the Jameson Memorial hospital with pneumonia, remains about the same. No visitors are permitted.

Charles "Tip" Richards of 205 Division street, who underwent an operation in the New Castle hospital Thursday, is getting along as well as can be expected.

Miss Marlene Mitchell, of 901 Franklin avenue, has returned from the Jameson Memorial Hospital, where she underwent an appendix operation, and is getting along nicely.

Bette Carol Polding, eight months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Polding, Cascade street, who has been quite ill for the past week with pneumonia, is showing some improvement.

Mrs. Dorothy Enoch of 1820 East Washington street, has returned after visiting for two weeks, with her husband, Sergeant Kenneth Enoch, attached to the Air Corps Bombardiers, at Sioux Falls, South Dakota.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

COMMITTEE TO MEET

International Institute Committee will meet at the home of Mrs. William Lestas, 213 West Winter avenue, Friday, March 12, at 1:30 p. m., instead of on Thursday because of the naturalization classes.

W. S. O. Club

Mrs. Herbert Ridgley, Scott street, was a charming hostess, Friday evening, to members of the W. S. O. club.

Card playing was the pastime, high score prizes going to Mrs. Anthony Fornataro and Mrs. John Dadds, the latter also capturing the gallop.

Special guest was Mrs. Harold Walter, and she received a lovely gift. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Paul Lowers.

Mrs. William King, North Cedar street, will entertain on March 19.

M. and N. C. Club

The M. and N. C. club met in the home of Mrs. C. D. Wharton, of Wilmington avenue, Thursday afternoon. In two weeks, the club will be entertained in the home of Mrs. Earl Wallover, of East Washington street.

G. S. Club to Meet

G. S. club will meet next on March 17 at the home of Mrs. Mary Tanner, Pollock avenue. It was announced at the last meeting of the club at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter.

C. D. of A. Court

Catholic Daughters of America Court Teresa Irene, No. 231, will meet Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock, in the K. of C. Home, North Jefferson street.

More than 20,000 tons of peanuts were gathered in Mexico last year.

GREAT BOMBER VICTORY

ANNIHILATION of a Japanese armada of 22 ships by General MacArthur's bombers in the Bismarck Sea, near New Guinea, is the greatest victory in history for land-based planes at sea; and there is something like irony in the fact that the battle was won in large part by B-25s, named for the late General "Billy" Mitchell, whose advocacy of the plane as a war weapon was laughed to scorn not so many years ago.

The disaster to the Japanese convoy proves even more clearly than the Battles of the Coral and Midway the immense advantage of American control of the air. Whether the convoy's lack of adequate air protection means that Japan is critically short of carriers is something for the experts to think about.

Apart from these considerations, this latest shattering blow to the Japs appears an important step toward neutralizing the powerful enemy base at Rabaul and widening America's sphere of influence northward from New Guinea and the Solomons.

But the fanatic determination of the Japs not to give up an inch of territory without a finish fight was never more dramatically revealed than in the Bismarck Sea action.

The Japs had good reason, from many American raids on Rabaul, to appreciate the accuracy and relentlessness of MacArthur's courageous bomber force. They know the convoy was spotted almost from the moment of its advance southward. But with fatalistic resolve, they pushed on toward New Guinea, vainly bent upon revenge for defeat in Papua.

This brilliant American air victory should help to blast open the pathway to Japan. Although it seems to be, in effect, a highly successful defensive operation by the Allies, there is something to be said for the Washington view that the Japs' movement from Rabaul was a defensive rather than an offensive measure, with its chief objective the preventing of American attacks.

The decisive defeat presumably has disrupted Japanese plans and should make feasible new American campaigns of far-reaching importance. It must be born in mind that for total Allied victory, Japan's home islands must be bombed and Japan's war power utterly crushed by daring American offensives.

But to do this in the shortest possible time it is apparent that we need more and more battle planes, particularly more land-based bombers, in the South Pacific.

We can't trust to half measures against the Japs. We know what air superiority can accomplish. It was only a year ago that the German radio was boasting: "The absolute supremacy of the Japanese in the air corresponds to the similar supremacy of other Axis Powers."

But we must make sure our air supremacy in the Pacific. We must give our fighting men the planes, as well as the ships, that they must have to smash Tokyo's barbarism once and for all.

A WAR-TIME HIGHWAY

Utility of the Pennsylvania Turnpike as a war facility is shown by a comparison of toll receipts in January with the same month of last year.

Last January trucks provided about 60 per cent of the revenue. This year in the same month the percentage mounted to 84. Passenger car and bus revenues in January, 1942, totaled $69,000; this year they were down to $18,000. Receipts from trucks, on the other hand, were off only $2,000.

Importance of the highway in war was only one of the indefinite possibilities mentioned at the time the road was under consideration. The easier grades are aiding in conservation of gasoline and at the same time permit faster running time. The road is a wartime asset of large proportions.

PAYING OFF DEBTS

Many Americans are getting out of debt. Good wages and steady work are enabling millions of workers to pay back loans of depression days. Mortgages are being reduced on farms and on city dwellings. Individuals are also borrowing less money.

The government has encouraged this trend. The president himself has urged it, and certain allowances are made in the victory tax refunds for amounts paid in reducing debt. Government restrictions on installment buying have also cut down the contracting of new obligations.

Millions of Americans would do what they are doing now about their debts even if the government had not made it patriotic to get into the clear. There are plenty of spendthrifts in the nation who will blow in all their cash, but the vast majority of sane people will take the chance to rid themselves of the burden of debt.

The government, on the other hand, is tremendously increasing its debt. That cannot be helped. But individuals and corporations will partly compensate for this by reaching a new all-time low in their debts.

Apparently it didn't occur to Rommel that if he continued sticking his neck out in Tunisia eventually a ton of bricks would fall on it.

What has become or will become of the woman whose neighbors always accused her of feeding her husband and children "out of tin cans?"

A young friend of ours says he has just succeeded in getting a jewel of a wife. She is a good welder and knows how to make her own succorash.

If Hitler and Mussolini meet again for a conference in the Brenner Pass it is a good bet that neither of them will say, "Well, it's been nice knowing you."

So far as we can learn nobody at one of those New Deal George Washington Birthday dinners sought to speculate on what George Washington would think of a fourth term.

An official connected with shoe rationing remarked that the shoes the public is doing without now will be worn by our soldiers marching into Berlin. Won't the boys look funny with French heels and open toes?

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WARTIME NEED OF HOME CURFEW

ON VARIOUS occasions in this column and from platforms throughout the country I have urged parents to establish in the home a strictly enforced curfew law, to the end that every child up to fourteen or fifteen shall make a bee-line for home as soon as the street lights appear.

I have said that if in every community all parents of educational and economic opportunity would effect such a home curfew, the less privileged parents of the community would soon emulate them and juvenile delinquency would decrease rapidly.

Delinquency Increasing
I doubt however whether many parents have taken this proposal seriously. In the meanwhile, juvenile delinquency is sky-rocketing. Can you imagine the kind of country we will have if matters go on at the present rate? Will our community and nation be worthy of our sons and daughters when they return victorious? Is it fair to our heroes?

Our country is at war. Something must be done at once to save the young brothers and sisters, sons and daughters of our men who are offering their lives in all parts of the world to defend our homes, our liberties, and our democracy.

Establish A Curfew
Therefore I believe the time is at hand for stern measures. Let every hamlet, every town, every city in our land establish and rigidly enforce a curfew law to the end that any youngster under fifteen found on the street after dark unaccompanied by an adult must have an excuse from his parents.

No use, of course, to have a curfew law until there is sufficient sentiment in the community for its enforcement.

Community Protection
In any event, if the children are to be protected and juvenile delinquency and crime checked, good parents, members of churches, P.T.A.'s and civic clubs are primarily responsible for setting the example by effecting a curfew law in their own homes.

We parents should consider ourselves unpatriotic unless we make this contribution to the character and citizenship of our children, community and nation right now. Furthermore, we parents might properly impose some curfew regulations on ourselves. Our country is at war. What do you think about it?

Solving Parent Problems
Q. My little girl three years old won't sit still long enough for me to read to her.
A. Keep trying. Show her the beautiful pages of a well-illustrated story book. While she looks at them read about what the pictures say. As soon as she loses interest, close the book and put it away but bring it back later. Keep patiently at this. You may have a selected list of books to read to the baby or young child by writing me in care of this paper enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Q. How may I protect my boy of eight from the lure of the punch board and slot machine?
A. Try to persuade him by precept and example not to use money in this way and not to tamper with any device or game of chance. Try to educate him in the wise use of money. My special bulletin on allowances might help you, to be had by writing me in care of this paper in the usual way.

Just Folks

RETURN

He came from the past half a century back.
As a boy he had slipped out of sight.
Now the weight of the years on his shoulders appears.
And the hair at his temples is white.
His eyes had a bit of the twinkle of old.
His laughter, the lilt of the lad. But I thought: at one glance to behold Time's advance.
Is a little too sudden and sad.

It is better to age at a much slower pace.
And to walk through the years, one by one.
When you're not so aware of the trace of care.
And you don't see the change coming on.
But to have an old man take the place of a boy.
Stout-hearted and bright-eyed and glad.
And at one glance recall what time does to us all.
Is a little too sudden and sad.

When some one has lived as a youth in the mind.
It's a shock when an old man appears.
Stepping out of the past, flesh and spirit re-cast.
In the soul-searing mold of the years.
To see at a glimpse life being spent in a flash.
With the sum of its good and its bad.
The heartaches and tears and the cares of the years.
Is a little too sudden and sad.

We should approach the subject of shoe rationing with our tongue in our cheeks and try not to be too straight-laced about it.

Shoe rationing reminds us of that Buy Me Posies, When It's Shoesies That I Need.

Or the call of the crap shooters: "Come on Seven! Baby needs shoes!"

But, no matter how strict shoe rationing gets, we'll always have plenty of heels, and you can't get away from that to save your sole.

Army And Navy Act As Unit In Demands
Meanwhile Civilian Effort Is Disrupted
Military Experts Know What They Want

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The military command (Army and Navy) gets what it wants in regard to civilian demands for separate departments and bureaus, which overlap and disagree among themselves, and it is hopeless for a lone individual in the White House to try to keep track of all their squabbles and conflicts.

The executive administration itself isn't a unit. It appears to be run by a single president, but he has to exercise his authority through a multiplicity of separate departments and bureaus, which overlap and disagree among themselves, and it is hopeless for a lone individual in the White House to try to keep track of all their squabbles and conflicts.

Furthermore, as experts, they must be listened to. "Let us have so-and-so-or-else." "Or else" means that national ruin will follow, and the rest of us will be responsible for it, after they warned us, as formally on record. Naturally we are scared and comply with their demands. Furthermore, they have a professional bullying tone in conversations, which intimidates us.

Now, nobody questions the merits of this technique on the battlefield, at sea, in the heavens or under water.

Yet the civilian question does arise: "How are we to provide the raw material for the fighters with which they are to do their scrapping?"

To that query the warriors answer: "You fellows' job is to deliver the goods. To us, the method is immaterial. The essential point is that we require the stuff in full-time and with no absenteeism from the firing line."

Well, clearly the country's abode of manpower and womanpower and even children is insufficient to go around for productive requirements without imposing upon destructive requirements. All the (Continued On Page Seven)

The World and the Mud Puddles

President Roosevelt and the military chiefs of this nation have not treated General Chennault as his ability merits and as the situation in China demands. With very mediocre equipment but with go-getting pilots at his command, Chennault has shown what a real air force in China would accomplish. Our big bombers could be delivered to Chennault and the men flown to fly and fight them. These big bombers can make the trip to Chennault's camp under their own power and Chennault can do the rest.

Mme. Chiang Kai-shek has been in Washington. She has addressed the House of Representatives; she has talked with the President and with the head of the military regime in Washington and she has made it very plain that the "prevailing opinion" that the defeat of Japan is less important than the defeat of Germany is the bunk.

It is a fact that the United Nations cannot afford to permit Japan to consolidate her gains and take full advantage of the tremendous resources she has seized. To do so would be to abet the creation of a military state even more formidable than Germany, to set the stage for a war that might last for decades and even result in stalemate.

What, then, are we to do? Can we defeat Japan first, then turn to Hitler? Can we conduct full-scale (Continued On Page Seven)

This came from the kitchen. I found that the water pipes were frozen. Not being mechanically inclined, I looked at the six or seven different valves and gauges attached to my water system—and called the plumber who said he was so busy he couldn't come over until the next day.

In the meantime it got colder and colder in the house, and there was nothing I could do except look at the latest model gas boiler.

There it stood, all shiny and streamlined sort of laughing at me.

Suddenly my wife said: "I think you'd better call the gas company. If there's no water, this whole darn thing may blow up."

So I called the gas company and told them what had happened.

"What does the gauge say?" the man asked me.

"What gauge?" I asked right back. "There are four gauges on the thing."

"The one on the lower left. If the red hand is below 30 and the black one over 120, we better get busy."

He held the line and I looked. There was no lower left. The gauges were all in a row, and each had a red and black hand. I told him and he said they'd be over in a couple of hours.

I went out into the garage to drive to the hardware store for a pot-bellied stove. The car was frozen—I walked two miles—no stoves left.

The temperature rose and the pipes thawed out—the water started running, with all the faucets open.

Aren't you glad you live in a mechanized age? Just turn a switch.

That's what you have to watch for in Washington sentences slipping into clean hard unsmoothed and making it sound like a government document.

Lend-Lease And Congress

WASHINGTON, March 6. THERE ARE some who see danger to the nation in a "destructive deadlock" between the new Congress and the President and war—particularly, the Republicans—against the disposition to oppose everything for which Mr. Roosevelt stands, just because he stands for it. Such a policy, they think, would lead to a virtual breakdown of government.

AND, OF COURSE, they are surely right. However, these apprehensions should be somewhat allayed by the recent attitude and report of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs concerning the Lend-Lease Administration and its director, Mr. Edward R. Stettinius, Jr. It is interesting, too, that on Monday the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations adopted a similar attitude.

Two Republican members—Senator Vandenberg and Senator Nye—neither of whom can be accused of friendliness toward the Administration and the latter of whom voted against the original lend-lease proposal—commented, more strongly than any Democrats, Mr. Stettinius for his integrity, intelligence and achievements as lend-lease director. The House committee, among other things, said the members of the committee have been highly impressed with the integrity and ability of Mr. Stettinius and feel that his selection as administrator was a distinctly meritorious choice.

"ABSENTEEISM"

Absenteeism (or the absence from work at vital war plants) reaches its peak following pay days and week-ends—or in other words following periods when beer and liquor have flowed their freest and have incapacitated thousands of workers so that they can neither think nor work.

The Liquor Business by virtue of being the greatest contributing factor to Absenteeism is holding up production and prolonging the war indefinitely.

Remember this, whether you are "Wet" or "Dry": The prolonging of the war may kill or cripple your son or brother.

The prolonging of the war will take taxes and still more taxes out of your pocket.

The prolonging of the war will increase the already untold suffering of all mankind.

The prolonging of the war will continue to play hob with your business while it promotes and increases the profits of the Liquor Business. (Liquor sales have reached in 1942 an all-time high, with the per capita consumption at Washington, D. C., being three times that of any other city in the country.)

Bible And Music Courses Offered

International Credits May Be Won By Those Taking Leadership Training

Adult teachers and members, young people, children's division teachers and workers, music lovers and singers, can all enroll with profit in the Leadership Training School being sponsored by the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, which starts at the First Baptist church, this city, Monday night March 15 at 7:30 p. m.

Letters have been mailed to the ministers, Sunday school superintendents, and others, urging attendance at this school to increase the Bible knowledge and teaching background of adults and children's workers, and to help meet the needs of young people and those interested in music.

There will be six courses offered, and the instructors have been chosen with great care and have fully qualified to offer these courses which will entitle those attending to international credit. Dr. G. S. Bennett is well known to Bible students based on those given at Bethany College, where he was professor of Bible. Rev. Oliver W. Hurst, who will have the New Testament course, will also be well received and his teaching will be appreciated. Rev. C. R. Thayer and Rev. Clyde Roland are experts in Young People's needs and problems, and both have had experience in similar schools in other counties of the state. Mrs. B. F. Johnson, county children's superintendent, has good teaching ability and will also give demonstrations in her course. Chester Kyle will make his music course both interesting and instructive to those that attend his class. The "Dean" of the school is Frank L. Burton, city superintendent of schools.

CRISIS ON PROGRAM

Roland Crisci, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Crisci, Croton avenue, sang on March 2 with the Westminster choir of Westminster Choir college, Princeton, N. J., at Madison Square Garden, New York, in a program given in honor of Madame Chiang Kai-Shek.

It is estimated that 20,000 persons die in India each year of cobra bites.

offenses against both at once? To find the answers to these questions, we must turn to our military strategy thus far. The evidence is rather plain. We have been preparing for total war in the European theater and at the same time attempting a limited offensive in the Far East. Furthermore, that "limited offensive" has been growing. At first it was confined to the Solomon-New Guinea area, but more recently the circle of attack has widened, and the Allied forces in Burma have made advances which may presage a major operation aimed at reopening the Burma road.

In other words, the trend of our strategy would seem to indicate that our military leaders do not consider Japan a minor foe, and that they have no intention of permitting the Japanese to become undisputed masters of the Far East, while Hitler is being liquidated. However, it is true that our operations in the Pacific have not been of the nature which would bring quick and direct assistance to the Chinese, and this is a fault which we would do well to correct as rapidly as possible. The barriers to more help to China are formidable, but the Chinese people who have fought so gallantly and so well for five and a half years, are richly deserving of the effort necessary to smash such obstacles.

We also can assist China, and recognize China's valiant fight and tremendous sacrifices, by giving the government of Chiang Kai-shek a larger voice in the councils of the United Nations. Regardless of who was responsible every American has reason to be ashamed of the slighting treatment received by Chiang's military mission to Washington. Such affronts are not only bad psychology, especially when directed at one of our strongest allies, but a foolish discard of valuable information and advice.

It may well be that Mme. Chiang was thinking of our neglect when she warned us against "the mirage of contingent reasons of expediency" when the world gathers around the peaceable. If we ignore our great allies in time of war, what can our smaller helpers expect in time of peace? The lesson is that this is not our war or Great Britain's war, exclusively, but a war to assure justice and freedom for all countries and all peoples. Unless we keep that in mind, and practice among our wartime allies what we preach for the peace, we shall be fanning the embers of a third terrible war even as the fire of the present conflict is being extinguished.

Bethany Lutheran Lenten Services

At Bethany Lutheran church the holy season of Lent will begin Ash Wednesday with the celebration of the Holy Eucharist at 7:30 p. m. In addition to the regularly scheduled services on Sunday, there will be services every Wednesday and Friday evenings at 7:30 o'clock during Lent.

The Wednesday evening devotions will be based on the various offices and devotions contained in the Common Service Book, along with explanatory devotional meditations. "The Orisons," a service of prayer and intercession, will be read on Friday evenings. These latter devotions allow not only for corporate congregational prayer, but also provide a quiet time wherein individual petitions may be voiced. Devotions for Holy Week will be announced later.

Dedication Week To Close Sunday

Methodist Churches Receiving Offering For Various Emergency Needs

Closing their week of dedication, Methodist churches in the nation will receive from their congregations a voluntary sacrificial offering this Sunday. The offering is to aid in meeting wartime emergency needs of the church.

The Methodist Council of Bishops and the general commission on World Service and Finance, in approving plans for the week of dedication, expressed the hope that more than a million dollars would be contributed for the various causes which demand immediate financial aid.

Emergency needs to benefit include: spiritual services for men in armed services; religious work among families in industrial defense areas; relief for war refugees; aid the chaplains in Army, Navy and Marine Corps; expansion of missionary work in Latin America; evacuating and re-establishing foreign missionaries; building churches in defense areas, and aid to Methodist schools.

Services are to be held tomorrow in everyone of the 42,000 Methodist churches in America, the first time this has ever happened on one day.

same, the destructive ones cannot be adequately met except somewhat at the expense of the productive ones. Which one is to be expected to economize?

"Economy be ding-busted! We want the stuff!" demand the militarists.

What are the civilian set-ups required to deal with the situation? Farm labor is a necessity. How much of it shall be left at home, to feed our soldiers? The War Manpower Commission and Selective Service aren't considering that issue; that is for the Agriculture Department to worry about.

Farmers are desperate for machinery and fertilizer. That is a problem for the War Production Board. It conflicts with the other two—and others.

Troops have to have some stay-at-homes to feed them. The stay-at-homes cannot do it if their own prices are too high to keep them eating. That is a puzzle for Economic Director James Byrnes and the Office of Production Management.

The list runs into the dozens and scores. They not only do not cooperate—they fight internally. Transportation and distribution are involved.

All these agencies criss-cross and oppose one another. If one of them hits on a good scheme, some other one discounts it.

But the war organization knows what it is up to, so far as WAR is concerned.

What is behind the scrambled civilian scenes is what it seems obvious of.

A real war cabinet, co-ordinating matters, is being urged now. It will call for a compacting of federal departments, as well as outside agencies, if the scheme is adopted. And it will verge on the dictatorial.

For instance—the suggestion is made that the War and Navy departments should be merged.

Congress, though, shows no such unification sentiment.

It wants to be the main thing as a democratic body.

Family Night At Maitland Church

A family night service is being arranged for Sunday evening, March 7, in the Maitland Memorial Primitive Methodist church. Visitation committees, during the last two weeks, have called on all the families connected with the church.

Special invitations are being mailed this week to all the home and indications are that a large congregation will be in attendance.

A fine musical program is planned, and the pastor, Rev. James D.D., will deliver a special message on "America's Broken Altars."

All parents and friends of young men in the service of their country, are being especially invited. The service will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

NEW YORK MAYOR MAY ENTER ARMY

(International News Service)
ALBANY, N. Y., March 6.—Democrats in the legislature today denied that the bill which would permit Mayor La Guardia of New York City to enter military service without resigning his office was slipped through without their knowledge.

Although the measure was introduced January 11 and signed by Gov. Dewey February 25, its contents did not become known to the general public until three days after it was on the statute books.

The Great Game Of Politics

aided in strengthening the United Nations in days of defeat and retreat. It has helped equip and supply the armed forces of the United Nations now beginning a relentless offensive. As an essential part of our mechanism for waging war, the Lend-Lease Act has operated with brilliant effectiveness.

WHEN THE magnitude of its operations is considered and it is recalled that the original act was deeply controversial and bitterly opposed in Congress, this nonpartisan endorsement, not only of the lend-lease operations but of the lend-lease principles, is significant and revealing for several reasons. For one thing, in the welter of confusion and incompetency that characterizes the civilian war management in Washington, it is a relief to find one man who is doing his job in so clear-headed and competent a way as to command respect from both parties and get unanimous endorsement from two committees, each with a very active and vigilant minority membership.

SUCH COMMITTEE endorsement insures favorable action and, in itself, is rather a complete answer to those who charge—or fear—that Congress, filled with hostility to the President and the New Deal, will assert itself in such a way as to impair the conduct of the war and demoralize government. Perhaps Congress will justify these fears on some other matter, but certainly in regard to lend-lease, the attitude is patriotic, nonpartisan and above criticism.

LEND-LEASE was the President's plan. It was he who presented it to the last Congress and secured its adoption. But, the sort of nonpartisan support it is now receiving is certainly largely due to the character and personality of Mr. Stettinius himself. In his appearances before Congressional committees, there has been nothing of the swagger and arrogance typical of some of the agency heads and nothing of the tricky evasion typical of others. On the contrary, his complete candor in answering questions and providing full information, plus the obvious fact that he knows what he is doing and how to do it, made the kind of impression that compelled the response he got.

OF COURSE, lend-lease is not perfect, but it is highly probable that without its effective operation the war would have ended before this with victory for the Axis. When an isolationist and anti-lend-lease Republican such as Senator Nye declares that its accomplishments are "amazing," it is fair to assume, without further proof, that they are. However, the proof is there in the Stettinius figures which show that the job of providing nearly $9,000,000,000 of materials to friendly nations has been well done. It is also gratifying that the Stettinius figures demonstrate that lend-lease exports are not responsible for the food shortage in this country. The really encouraging part about all this, however, is the evidence that the Republicans in Congress are not hostile to every Roosevelt agency, good or bad, but appreciate good work, support it. It is a pity there is not more of that kind of work to support. If to their attitude on lend-lease the Republicans now unite effort to continue the Hull reciprocity treaties, their criticism and attack upon Administration waste and incompetency, evidences of which are overwhelming, will be much more effective. It is their clear duty to supply this criticism and make this attack. But, if they make it plain that they are using discernment and judgment, the effects will be much more helpful to the country—and, incidentally, to their party.

GIVE DOUBLE this year

OFFICIAL CHANNEL—U. S. censorship rules designate the American Red Cross Inquiry Service as the only means of communication between citizens of this country and their relatives in enemy or occupied countries. Here a worker at Red Cross national headquarters in Washington files messages according to the countries to which they are addressed.

Your RED CROSS supplies food, clothing and medicinal supplies to the bombed-out civilians of our allies.

They write letters home for our wounded men. They collect precious blood plasma to save men hurt in battle. This takes money... REAL MONEY!

JOIN in with our patriotic neighbors and GIVE NOW. Be ready when the solicitor comes... or better yet stop in at the Pennsylvania Power Building, East Washington Street, and GIVE DOUBLE.

PRISONERS OF WAR SUPPLIES—Cases of Red Cross food and comfort articles shipped to American prisoners of war and civilian internees in Japan and other sections of the Far East are marked with their destination by a Red Cross worker in an Eastern seaboard warehouse.

THE American Red Cross asks you to GIVE DOUBLE this year because there's a DOUBLE TASK to be accomplished.

Your local chapter has always held itself in readiness to meet any situation that fate or nature might thrust upon us. This it must continue to do... plus its all important war work.

For instance, the war department reports that over 70,000 of our fighting men are dead or missing. A good many of these are prisoners of war. The American Red Cross is the only agency that keeps contact with these unfortunate men. This is just one service... but isn't it worth a DOUBLE CONTRIBUTION?

NEARLY 2,000 FAMILIES ARE TRUCK SUPPORTED

The truck industry has developed into one of importance in Lawrence County. Nearly 2,000 families here look to the trucking industry for their livelihood. Not all of them are truckers of course—but the dockmen—mechanics—clerical help—and many others bring the total up to an impressive figure.

Today the truck industry in Lawrence County means something in payrolls, motor taxes, realty taxes and purchasing power. The truck industry in Lawrence County has grown up—it is an integral part of our community and industrial life. It is so because people now know it is better to "Ship By Truck".

Titan Five Battles Tournament Bound Wash.-Jeff. Tonight

Blue And White Seeks To Annex 12th Win On Washington, Pa., Boards

PREXIES SPORT

11-GAME STREAK
(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, March 6.—Interest in local basketball circles will center tonight on the leading district battle between Washington, Jefferson and Westminster colleges in the Washington, Pa., high school gym.

If the Titans follow their familiar pattern of play, Wash-Jeff's 11-game winning streak is a sure bet to go "flying out the window." The blue and white cagers this season have displayed their ability to upset heavily favored teams while losing to some of the easier schools.

W. J. Tourney Bound
The Presidents, leading the district with their excellent record of 14 wins and three defeats, are presently touring bound. If the Prexies can get safely by Westminster and Duquesne, they will undoubtedly represent this district in the Metropolitan Invitation tournament to be held in Madison Square Garden, New York, later in March.

May Start Newcomers
Finding now that he has two outstanding freshmen products after Wednesday's game with Duquesne, Coach Washbaugh is undecided about his starting lineup. Either of the two Connelville newcomers, Jones or Wagner, will open at one forward post, teaming up with reliable Frank O'Hara, spunky little Titan flash.

Captain Fred Miller, Westminster standout in the Duquesne game, will take his place at the pivot post, while Barron will start at one of the guard positions. Tom Weeter, Kittanning freshman, or senior Ted Ossoff will get the nod at the other guard post. If Weeter and Wagner get the nod, then Captain Miller will be the only Titan bettering the six-foot mark.

Westminster enters the fray as the underdog.

Geo. Senesky Seeks To Jar Cage Mark

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, March 6.—Incomparable George Senesky, the tonight will attempt to better the national basketball scoring record when St. Joseph's goes into action against Temple in the feature fracas of the final twin bill this season at Philadelphia's Convention hall.

In 21 games Senesky has shot 208 field goals and 90 successful free throws for a grand total of 506 points. He needs only three more points to tie the record set by Red Holman, of Rhode Island State, three years ago. LaSalle clashes with Toledo in the first game.

Two House Loop Games Next Week

Zivic Drubbed By Beau Jack

Georgian Whips Pittsburgher Second Time Before 18,813 Wild Fans

BATTLE PROVES BEAU'S TOUGHEST

By JACK MAHON
I. N. S. Sports Writer
NEW YORK, March 6.—"Henry Armstrong will beat Beau Jack." The tired, tough guy lay on his dressing room table and gasped. Then Fritz Zivic, fighting veteran of the famed Pittsburgh fighting family said: "He can stay with him and punch was him, that's why."

This was about all the Fritz had to say after he had absorbed drubbing No. 2 from the flying fists of Beau Jack. Augusta's belting boxer, before 18,813 at Madison Square Garden last night.

Jack's Toughest Fight
It was a tough, bruising fight, the toughest Jack has had since he won the title of the preliminary ranks a bit more than a year ago but he won it with something of a spare. The Beau came out of it, however, a tougher physical shape than he did any other battle in which he has fought in the last several months. He had a badly bruised left eye, his lips were puffed and his face was more swollen than it had been in sometime.

Last night's bout, a return which saw the Beau enter the ring a 3-1 favorite over Zivic, was a corking featured by a lot of wild punching both at long range and in some roughhouse clinches. Jack won the first five rounds by pouring all over the Fritz who set out to make a fight of it instead of watching the clock as he did in the initial meeting.

Zivic suffered a slight cut below the left eye in the sixth but bloodied Jack's nose and gave him a fairly good going over to gain it by a slight margin.

Seventh Top Round

In the seventh, the best round of the fight, Jack pounded Fritz at will and shook him up badly with a left hook to the head followed by a terrific right cross. Just before the bell Zivic came out of a trance and caught the Beau napping. He landed three or four rights and lefts to the face without a return, astounded Jack and electrified the crowd.

Though he won the eighth on a gift from Referee Walsh, who penalized Beau for a low punch, he lost the ninth for an equally false infraction. He called the tenth even and gave Zivic the 11th when he managed to beat Jack to the punch in the closing 60 seconds. The last round went to the Beau, though Zivic could have had it if he chose to sail in the lead to the tiring colored boy instead of standing back and allowing the Beau to fire those long-range, desperation punches at him.

The gross gate amounted to $11,346.

Michigan Leads "10" Track Meet

Wolverines Threaten To Walk Away With Title; Wisconsin Second

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, March 6.—Winner of 15 qualifying places, the University of Michigan today moved into the dominating spot in the two-day 33rd annual Western Conference indoor track and field championships at the University of Chicago field house.

The Maize and Blue threatened to win the team title in a walk and even to endanger the all-time scoring record of 49½ points hung up by another Wolverine entry in the 1935 indoor met in tonight's final events.

Michigan's power was evident in the running events, where Coach Ken Doherty's athletes easily led the field. The Wolverines, who held the Big Ten title for seven straight years before losing it last year, qualified a man in all except one of the four spring heats.

Second among the qualifiers was Wisconsin, which took second, third and fourth in the broad jumps, and Ohio State ended up third by qualifying a man in each of the 60-yard dash heats. The men were Chet Thomas, Russ Owen, Dave Trepanier and Paul Hatfield.

Illinois was fourth in each of six events. Herb Matter made the best showing for the Illini, getting three of the places. He won his heats in the dash and low hurdles and jumped 22 feet 9.18 inches for the best broad jump mark.

Tony Janiro Wins Golden Glove Title

CHICAGO, Ill., March 6.—Two champions today stood out prominently among the eight Golden Glove winners crowned last night in the Chicago stadium before a crowd of 20,624. They were Tony Janiro, 126-pound bundle of dynamite from Youngstown, O., and Morris Cowan of Ft. Worth, Tex., 147-pound titlist.

Janiro, 16-year-old high school freshman, won the plaudits of the crowd throughout the tourney with his angelic facial expression and his battering ram punches. He had won 27 straight bouts without a loss before coming to Chicago.

CHICAGO—George (Mule) Haas, former member of the Philadelphia Athletics and at present employed in a Philadelphia Aviation plant, has been engaged as coach by the Chicago White Sox.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

There was a time when boxing was not regulated. A fly-by-night promoter could enter a town, rent a hall, pitch a ring, toss a number of boxers, good or bad, into the squared circle and depart with the proceeds while the boxers were fighting. However such an occurrence has become a thing of the past because of regulations enforced by the state of Pennsylvania through commissioners and deputies.

Nowadays no organization is permitted to stage a boxing show unless it has been approved by the State Athletic commission and should the bout be between amateurs, the approval of the A.A.U. and also the State Athletic commission is necessary. The same applies to wrestling. The commission requires the names and addresses, plus the photo of every participant. A club must put up a several thousand dollars bond.

A commissioner or deputy takes charge of the show and watches while a physician examines the participants. If there is any ailment he may be contracted by an opponent a participant in good physical condition, have only a stipulated weight advantage and inside and outside of the ring must conduct himself according to the rules prescribed by the state.

In the absence of both a state policeman and a physician, the collection and box office receipts. Following the show the commissioner collects the state's five percent tax (after Uncle Sam's 10 percent is deducted) and the reports are signed by the club or promoter who must have a three months lease on the building where the affair is staged.

After these deductions, the amount left goes to the club. If an amateur club, it is devoted to athletic affairs. If a professional club, it goes into the hands of those who back the show. Usually the smallest amount of money is the smallest amount of money. The cost of a professional show is much more. In the days of the Jolly bowl it cost $12,500 to open the doors.

The fly-by-night has gone. The commission has ruled for years. Not everybody likes every regulation but, in the main, not only the promoter but the participant and also the fans are protected because, wrong-doing on one's part usually results in a revocation of license. Harvey Boyle, present commissioner is due to leave office.

Today we received from Frank N. Johnston several newspaper clippings from the Scranton Times and also a letter. The newspaper clipping showing the principals in St. David's fight we have turned over to Arthur Reese because no doubt there are many Welsh-Americans here who know some of the people from Hyde Park, Dunmore, Throop, Peckville, Oliphant and other towns in the hard coal region.

Frank writes that he has been inspecting the Scranton city jail and also the Lackawanna county prison. That is his job. He then reports on conditions and says that "everything is going big up here. All the miners seem to have lots of cash. They are all working six days a week." Frank then recites about some of the indoor sports events.

"I went to a boxing show at the Armory 13th Regiment, if we recall correctly. They had six bouts. Four of them ended in knockouts. I also went to a bingo game. They had 1,500 at the game. They pay off in cash $100.00 every game; two games for $50.00 and one for $100.00. They sure get the crowds."

ST. LOUIS—The Houston Buffs of the Texas League, a farm club of the St. Louis Cardinals, cost $40,000 to operate last year, Sam Breardon revealed.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Scrubbed while riding a Pittsburgh-bound rail.

War has made America poker-faced. Glancing around the cars, I experienced as much difficulty as I did in trying to spot a smile as I do in trying to spot a purchase of a pound of butter. War chat as free as air, headlines, sober faces all around. The expressions reminded me of a poker player beaten on the last card with aces wired, a pair backed up. As if you didn't know.

Enroute to the station, my eyes almost popped out as I saw Paul Fahy, smiling and glad to be home after recovering from a pneumonia attack sustained while helping to sink the Rising Sun in the Aleutians. The prominent local athlete was shipped to the states when he became ill.

The baseball-ex-New Castle high football star, who will be 38 next Wednesday, has received a medical discharge. Regarding the Aleutians, Paul said, "the most desolate place in the world, a place where you almost go nuts. Japs provide the only action. 'Fahy expects to reside in Cleveland or Youngstown."

Puffing through the Beaver valley, I am reminded that Class B teams in the district can thank R. H. Gardner, New Castle faculty manager, and E. G. Groleau, Beaver valley school bigwig, for the origination of a B division in the WPAL. Gardner invented the plan and passed it on to Groleau.

Quick Shots: Willie Joyce, who defeated Ben Armstrong the other night and suffered a broken jaw doing it, has never been kayoed in eight years of biffing. Because the manpower commission has listed ushers as non-essential, New York parks plan employing the fairer sex to carry on the work.

Toronto, of the International, has purchased Pete Gray, one-armed outfielder who won the Canadian American loop swatting title last year with a .381 mark. Whizzer White, the famous gristler, is helping to boot the Japs in the Solomons. End of the line.

Ohio State Leads Big 10 Swimmers

Several New Records Set; Buckeyes Top Team With 42 Points

(International News Service)
EVANSTON, Ill., March 6.—With a total of 42 points, Ohio State today led the pack in the chase for the 1943 swimming crown of the Big Ten conference.

The Buckeyes were led by Kuo Nakama, of Hawaii, who defeated defending champion John Paiten of Michigan. In the 220-yard free style he 2:11.2 to set one of three new records established during the day.

Harry Holiday, Wolverine backstroke artist, set another new mark in the 150-yard back stroke preliminary by covering the distance in 7:37.7 or 5.1 seconds better than the old B.T. mark. The time also was 2.5 seconds faster than the National Collegiate record and 1.3 second better than the world mark held by Adolph Kiefer.

Michigan's 300-yard medley team set the other record, covering the distance in 2:56.7 or 1 second better than the old record.

DALERS NO MATCH FOR LOCAL CAGERS IN WPAL TOURNEY

Triumph Lifts "Greyhounds" Into Semi-Final Round Match With Claysville, Section 20 Representative; Borowicz, Evans And Cathcart Divide 47 Points; Eaglesomen Never Behind In Clash Played On Pitt Floor Before 1,000 Fans; Borowicz Proves Class Of Tourney; Play Again Thursday.

(Special To The News)

PITTSBURGH, March 6.—Versatile New Wilmington high, cutting loose with a rhythmic foray that impressed close to 1,000 Pitt stadium clients, Friday night, hoisted itself to the semi-final round of the Class B WPAL tournament by exploding Leetsdale's title balloon with comparative ease, 48-35.

At least three figures shared prominently in the 20th triumph for the Lawrence county cage ambassadors. Captain Norbert Borowicz proved to be the outstanding hooper seen in the classic thus far. From his guard slot, the coolest blond patrolled his beat flawlessly and sparked the offense with 17 markers. He was by far the class of the show.

Evans Sure-Eyed
Charles "Chuck" Evans, bespectacled forward, surprised "Greyhound" followers with an impressive shooting demonstration. Evans featured the first half onslaught with three deuces. He followed with two more fielders and a foul to run his total to 13 for the night.

Towering Kenny "Skyscraper"
Cathcart, a bit off form in the first half, came back in the last three quarters, dropping seven "fats" and three gift attempts to tie Borowicz for high scoring honors. As expected, the six foot six star took charge of numerous rebounds. Borowicz handled most of the ones that eluded Kenny.

N. W. gave an inkling of what to expect in the opening seconds when Evans, from his favorite side spot, dunked a set-shot. Merdes, for the Section 10 kings, took advantage of an opening under the hoop to tie the count. After Borowicz converted a foul, the Dalers were in the trailing division until the clash ended.

Dalers Slash Lead
Two quick fielders, one a follow up and another a sensational one handed inside the foul circle, boosted the Eaglesomen's margin to 9-3 with six gone. Valoski, however, dropped a side shot and an easy lay up to slash the deficit to 9-7. Green corded a foul six seconds before the stanza closed.

At 2:02 of the second, Gaydos reversed Dalers' hopes by ringing a shot from under the hoop. Then East and West collide in friendly rivalry as the nation's top figure skaters compete on the ice of Madison Square Garden, New York City. It is Miss Dorothy Goos of New York, 1942 national junior champion. A western star is Miss Joan Yocum of Chicago, midwest champ. Meet

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, March 6.—Howard Ehmke, who set a record in fanning batters in the 1929 World Series between the Philadelphia Athletics and the Chicago Cubs, recently told of how he took to the mound for the A's knowing his club had planned to let him go.

Earlier in the season, he was notified he was just about ready for his walking papers, but some how he talked Connie Mack out of it. After winning four games in the pennant drive, he was selected by Connie to pitch the first series game against the Cubs.

But, mindful of the earlier reminder that he was verging on failure, he didn't back. "It was such a secret, I didn't even tell my wife," he related.

Fanned Dozen
When the seventh inning of that game rolled around, Ehmke had fanned 12 Cubs.

"Jimmy Fox, who had promised to hit one for me if I pitched, came to bat and slammed out a homer," continued Ehmke. "By the end of the ninth, the A's had two more runs and were leading 3-0. Then things began to blow up in my face—the Cubs scored two and had tying and winning runs on base. Stan Tolson, a pinch hitter, came up to bat.

"The count was two strikes and three balls. Catcher Mickey Cochran and I had a conference. I told Mike to sign a fast ball and be ready, as I was going to shake off his sign and pitch at the same time.

"I pitched," Mike yelled "Hit it!" and Tolson swung.

Ehmke then paused in his narrative and grinningly contemplated his fingertips.

"Tolson," he concluded, "missed by eight inches!"

Ritz Mexico City Track Opens Today

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, March 6.—After a lapse of 22 years, horse racing gets under way today with the opening of the $2,000,000 "Hipodromo de Las Americas." Six races are on the card.

Fifty thousand fans are expected to witness the program, which will be opened officially by President Manuel Avila Camacho of Mexico and President Rafael Angel Calderon Guardia of Costa Rica by opening the gates of the new race course, situated in the fashionable suburb of Lomas de Chapultepec.

The "Inaugural General Manuel Avila Camacho Handicap," a six-furlong event which will bring the winner seven thousand pesos and a silver cup, was won by the Mexican president, who will be the feature race of the day. Entries for this event will include Gaby Battle, Cup Pan Time, Border Beauty, Abide and Kiosk.

STOCK MARKET TONE IS FIRM

General Price In Trading This Morning Averages Shade Higher

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, March 6.—The stock market maintained a firm tone today despite persistent profit-taking through most of the two-hour session.

The general price averaged a shade higher, although many representative issues finished behind minus signs. Trading was moderately active.

Several representative stocks reached new 1942-43 tops. Included were Anaconda, International Harvester, National Biscuit, Johnson-McCormick, Twentieth Century-Fox, Loew's Schenley, Hiram Walker and McIntyre Mines.

Coca-Cola independently soft, dropped 1 1/2 to 98 1/2. Westinghouse Electric gained a point to 86 1/2.

U. S. Steel and Bethlehem were barely changed, but Chrysler moved up a half point.

Trading was active as the curb market staged a modest gain in most sections today. Pittsburgh Plate Glass stood out with a gain of more than a point to around 81.

The general tone was steady in the bond market. U. S. government held within narrow limits.

Silver Anniversary Of B.V.M. Church To Occur On Sunday

Special Mass To Mark Event On Sunday Morning With Visiting Priests

ELLWOOD CITY, March 6.—On Sunday, the congregation of the Purification B. V. M. church will celebrate the 25th anniversary of the original church. The actual date of the dedication was March 10 but since this date falls on Ash Wednesday, the celebration is being held Sunday.

The anniversary mass has been set for 11 o'clock, and it will be a solemn high mass. Rev. Andrew Pauley, S. T. L., secretary of Bishop Hugh C. Boyle, of Pittsburgh, will be celebrant of the mass, assisted by various priests of this vicinity. Father Pauley will also deliver the sermon during mass, and after mass will lead special prayers for those in service and for peace. The religious function will come to a close with a solemn benediction.

At this mass all of the church organizations will be present, each in their own place, and each with their own banner.

In the evening, the girls of the Little Flower club will present a three-act play entitled, "Sinister House".

A brief history of the church follows:

The Purification B. V. M. church was organized in 1916 by the Rev. Salvatore Marino, now in Akron, Ohio. The cornerstone of the original building was blessed on July 4, 1917, and the church was dedicated the following year on March 10, 1918 by Bishop John Canevin, bishop of the Pittsburgh diocese.

The church was located at 317 Park avenue, a site now occupied by the Aetna Standard company. In June, 1919, Father Marino was moved from the parish to be succeeded by the Rev. Vincent Galliano who in August was transferred here from Hillsville, Pa. The congregation was growing so much that the original building soon became inadequate and made some changes necessary. The original building was exchanged for the present one on the corner of Fourth and Park. The necessary repairs were made and the cornerstone was blessed on Thanksgiving of 1919 with the dedication on March 27, 1920, by the Rt. Rev. Hugh C. Boyle.

But the congregation still was expanding and more changes were necessary. So in 1940 a nave was added to either side of the building with the result that the church could now seat at least 700 people. The dedication of the new part was made on August 28, 1940 by the Rev. Andrew Pauley, secretary to the bishop.

In 1936 a convent was opened for social and missionary work among the families of the congregation, and this is now in charge of the Salesian Sisters of St. John Bosco.

In September, 1941 the Rev. Joseph A. Pernatowski was sent to assist Father Galliano in the care of the parish.

The spiritual organizations of the parish consist of: The Holy Name Society, Christian Fraternity of the Catholic Doctrine, Little Children of Mary, Young Ladies Sodality (junior and senior), St. Theresa Society, St. Rita Sorority, Confraternity of Our Lady of Sorrows, the Study Club, the Men's and Boys Chorus, and the Altar Boys. There are four boys from the parish studying for the priesthood and one girl for the sisterhood. There are approximately 200 boys and four girls in the service of their country.

Y.W.C.A. Juniors Plan Activities

ELLWOOD CITY, March 6.—When members of the Junior Y. W. C. A. met last night at the Northside school, plans for many activities were made.

Friday, March 19, the group will have a bowling party with members to meet at Lawrence and Fifth at 7:30 p. m. On Friday, April 2, an April Fool party will be held at the school, and on Friday, April 16, there will be a theater party to Beaver Falls. On the last Friday of April there will be a session for anyone wishing to learn to knit.

Miss Daisy Wallis was elected secretary-treasurer in place of Dorissa Druschel, who resigned. Mrs. Elmer Risseew was a special guest.

The evening was spent socially with the time being devoted to making drapes for the club rooms. An appealing lunch was served by Misses Betty Parker, Violet Tritt, Evelyn Kingston and Esther Gaskell.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Camp, of Ellport, have been called to McKeesport by the death of their son, Clifford Camp, 44, who died on Thursday following a heart attack. He formerly resided here being associated with the National Tube company. Funeral services were to be held this afternoon at McKeesport.

Mrs. Clifford Vinroe, of Ellport, has returned home from Baltimore where she visited with her son, Edward, who is confined to the John Hopkins hospital suffering from arthritis. His condition is somewhat improved. Karen Ray, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Vinroe, is also ill with whooping cough.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, March 6.—If the legislature adopts Governor Martin's recommendation to abolish the mercantile tax, it will result in an annual loss of more than $140,000 to Pennsylvania's newspapers. Names of delinquent taxpayers must be published in newspapers of general circulation and if the levy is eliminated this lucrative source of revenue will be lost to papers with those in small communities feeling it the most. The tax collectors will also lose their jobs if the proposal is adopted. The recommendation to repeal the tax was first made more than 15 years ago but the legislature failed to agree.

House Speaker Ira T. Fiss exercises firm control over the 208 representatives, but he was unable to maintain order for awhile one day when Rep. J. Harold Levy (D-Philadelphia) led a fight for more than four hours to defeat a bill placing the Philadelphia ball commissioner's office under the clerk of courts instead of the city controller's office. Republicans and Democrats started banging desks top in an effort to halt Levy's lengthy speeches and then began walking around the house chamber in an unconcerned manner. Fiss succeeded in stopping the desk rattling but was powerless to end the marathon.

The "Pennsylvania road builder" publication of the Home Rule Association of Altoona, is campaigning against continuance of the township road bureau in the State Department of Highways. "Just why the township bureau should be under the highway department has never been explained," an editorial stated. "Certainly there is a vast difference between township and state road problems. State highway officials think in terms of $30,000 to $100,000 a mile whereas township supervisors are forced to think in terms of a few hundred to a few thousand dollars a mile." Prior to 1923, the township bureau was a self-contained unit. The editorial claimed the department was determined to retain control of the bureau because "they perhaps thought they could control rural voters."

The food distribution administration has been contacting public and parochial school officials and outlining plans to extend the school lunch and milk program. Under the program, approved schools may purchase certain foods designated by the U. S. secretary of agriculture "with reimbursement for these purchases to be made by the federal government," according to Theodore J. Wilson, state F. D. A. supervisor. He said that more than 150 individual programs were in operation at present in 275 schools with more than 75,000 children benefiting from whole-some foods. The list of foods available now includes cereals, poultry products, dairy products, dried and fresh vegetables, lamb, pork and beef, as well as liver and other variety meats, and fresh fruits.

Moose Lodge To Initiate Class

Governor Walter L. Ringer, of New Castle Lodge, No. 51, Loyal Order of Moose, announced today that a class of 288 candidates, who have enrolled in the lodge during the past six months, will be initiated at a special initiation ceremony, Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

This class is in honor of the 135 members of the lodge now serving in the armed forces of their country.

A special representative of the Supreme Lodge, Edward A. Schofield, of Pittsburgh, will address the class Sunday evening, and the local degree staff of 20 men, with the drill team, will exemplify the ritualistic work. Visitors from various sections of Western Pennsylvania are expected present.

Governor Ringer announced that a new class will be formed immediately, when it is hoped to secure 300 additional members to bring the lodge membership over the 2,000 mark, in observance of the 35th anniversary of the founding of the lodge, which occurs this year.

Three More WAACS Are Enrolled Here

Three more young women have joined the ranks of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps to do their bit for their country. Army Recruiting Sgt. John T. Bilpuch announced today they will release three more men for combat duty.

More women are needed in the WAACS to meet the quota assigned the local office, Sgt. Bilpuch states, and those enrolling before March 8, will be able to go to Daytona Beach, Fla., for their indoctrination training.

The names of the additional young women enrolled today are: Nadine J. Rodenbaugh, 309 Elizabeth street, daughter of Mrs. Bertha W. Rodenbaugh.

Mary G. Williams, 1126 Croton avenue, daughter of Mrs. Mary G. Williams.

Anna Kish, 510 Walnut street, Sharon, Pa., daughter of Mrs. Katie Kish.

Amazing Flight In Pacific Area

Pilot Flies Bomber 500 Miles Without Elevators, Makes Perfect Landing

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, March 6.—Making one of the most amazing flights in the history of this war theater, Lieut. James Dieffenferfer, of Sprague, W. Va., today piloted his Flying Fortress 500 miles without elevators and made a perfect landing.

More amazing than the flight itself was the fact that Dieffenferfer and his co-pilot had pulled the Fortress from a vertical nose-dive after the elevators had gone. He had put the plane into a power-dive to dodge attacking Zeros.

At 2,500 feet the rear gunner, Sergeant Ken Mowry, of the Bronx, yelled: "The left elevator's gone!" Then a few minutes came: "My God, so has the right one!"

The stick was jerked from Dieffenferfer's hand and the plane went into a nose-dive. When he failed to budge the stick, Dieffenferfer and the co-pilot, Second Lieut. Jack Campbell, of Fresno, Cal., braced their feet against the instrument panel, straining every ounce of weight in an effort to bring the plane out of its death dive.

Miraculously, the Fortress responded at 1,000 feet. Then began a nightmare flight to the base. His first words when he climbed wearily from the plane were: "I don't believe it. I must have had good gremlins with me!"

GAS RENEWALS MUST PASS RATION BOARD

"Many people appear to be under the impression that the proper procedure when they need a new gasoline ration book is to wait until they need it, then come into the ration book headquarters and have the new one made out, but this is not the case," Robert A. Eckles, director of the local ration board, said today.

Because it is impossible to give the books out at the same time the application is made, as the application must be passed on by the ration board. The board meets on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Therefore, those who will need a new ration book within the next few weeks should make application now for renewal either by mail or at ration book headquarters at the Aiken school building, on Pearson street.

REBEKAH CRAWFORD IN ARTISTS COURSE

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, March 6.—One of New Wilmington's most talented citizens, Rebekah Crawford, will return here to appear with the American Ballad Singers on the Artist Course series in the Westminster college chapel, Monday evening, March 15, at 8:15 according to Prof. Donald O. Cameron, artist course director.

Miss Crawford, in private life Mrs. Cornelius Mustie, wife of Dr. Cornelius Mustie, one of New York's most prominent preachers, is a Westminster graduate, and received her early voice training under W. W. Campbell, professor of voice in the Westminster Conservatory of Music.

DAVIS IS NAMED ARMY EXAMINER

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, March 6.—Warrant Officer Bandleader John E. Davis, son of Prof. and Mrs. Alan B. Davis of New Wilmington, has been appointed a member of the examining board to test candidates in forth-coming warrant officer examinations for the United States Army Band school in Washington, D. C.

A Westminster college graduate, Davis will be the junior member of the group as the rest of the board is composed of two majors and a lieutenant colonel. Warrant Officer Davis' band and rehearsal building at Ft. Riley, Kansas, has also been chosen for the conducting of the musical test which will last for four days from March 9 to 12.

Davis received his bachelor of music education degree from Westminster with the class of 1941.

Sentence Attorney For Manslaughter

(International News Service)

WEST CHESTER, Pa., March 6.—Attorney Stephen A. Devereux, unexpectedly pleading guilty to voluntary manslaughter in the fatal shooting of William C. Copeland during the 1942 hunting season, today was under sentence of three and one-half to nine years, despite the protests of Copeland's widow.

"He was too yellow to take it," screamed tall, dark-eyed Pansy Copeland when Devereux entered his plea just 20 minutes after the jury which was to have judged him was completed.

"He was too big a coward to stand up in front of that jury and take what he knew it would give him!" Mrs. Copeland sobbed.

"It's the same yellow streak that made him run from me that day in the fields when he killed my husband and saw that I had a gun in my hands!"

Devereux, tears streaming down his face, said not a word. He had previously claimed that Copeland was shot after being warned to get off Devereux's 150-foot fence, but Mrs. Copeland insisted her husband "didn't have a chance."

Public Library Gardening Books

This season, brother, you garden for your life. You garden or you don't eat next fall and winter. No talk about gardening as a hobby or for reducing. Secretary of Agriculture Wickard says: "The civilian population of the United States now faces a food situation more serious than any within the memory of its living citizens." He adds that lettuce and celery will disappear from most markets. How can one go through the summer without lettuce? The answer is to grow your own.

Already some of the nation's 10,000,000 home gardeners have been asking public libraries for books on gardening. These books will not dig your garden for you, but they will tell you about soils, insect pests, fertilizing, mulching, etc., as well as giving information about each vegetable.

The following are on the shelves of New Castle public library today, others are in circulation and new titles are being ordered:

The Food Garden, Lawrence Blair. Plant Propagation, D. C. Fairbairn. Modern Guide to Successful Gardening, M. G. Kains. Garden Maintenance, H. S. Artloff. Gardener's How Book, C. C. Sherlock. Visual Garden Manual, Elsa Uppman. The Tomato, Paul Work.

Trick Bet Causes Alleged Murder

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., March 6.—First degree murder charges were filed on Friday against William McCausland, 29, who, police said, shot and killed Leo P. Knoll, 45, after losing a trick $10 bet in a cafe.

Knoll bet McCausland that he had more money in his pocket than McCausland, and when the latter put $10 on the bar, Knoll covered it. He said the money wasn't in McCausland's pocket, and claimed the bet.

McCausland, according to police, went home, where he obtained a deer rifle and shot Knoll. The victim who died instantly, is survived by his wife and son.

FOREMAN OF WAR PLANT ENDS LIFE

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, March 6.—Robert Lockhart, 40, a war plant foreman, ended his life with a shotgun Friday in his Swissvale home, the corner's office reported. Police said they were informed by the Edwin L. Wiegand Company, where Lockhart worked, that he had been ordered to take a rest recently, but that he had refused.

TREATED AT HOSPITAL

Louis Pressner, of R. F. D. No. 1, Wampum, employed as a laborer at the Elastic Products Co., of Wampum, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital, late Friday morning. Mr. Pressner cut his hand several days ago, and infection developed, necessitating hospital treatment.

War Courses For Women Given Here

Three War Training Classes To Begin Soon At High School

Both the United Presbyterian and Christian Endeavor Young People are co-operating in this school.

Three courses, designed exclusively for women, will be included in the list of fifteen evening technical classes, which will be given by the Pennsylvania State College Extension Services at New Castle High School during the spring and early summer. Registration will be held March 15, 16 and 17.

The all women courses are Mechanical Detailing for Women, Manufacturing Procedures for Women and Office Supervision for Women. The courses will train women for jobs in war industries and will serve to upgrade those now employed.

Mechanical Detailing for Women will prepare women and girls for positions as detailers or junior draftsmen. Requirements for admission to the class are a high school course or its industrial equivalent, and one year of high school mathematics.

Those who enroll for the study of Manufacturing Procedures for Women will be trained for work as production clerks, supervisors and inspectors in war industries. The course of study will include mathematics, interpretation of technical drawings and sketching, manufacturing processes, measurements and inspection gauges.

Practical office experience including a knowledge of shorthand and typing is required for admission to the Office Supervision for Women course. The training will train workers for positions as personnel and office supervisors assistants in the office of war industries.

The Pennsylvania State College coordinates its activities with those of the Carnegie Institute of Technology in offering technical courses in the New Castle area.

First Methodists To Honor Soldiers

Services at the First Methodist church Sunday will include the Easter communion and will be in honor of the members of the church in the armed services of the country. Families and friends of the boys in service will be honored guests both morning and evening.

The service flag, which now has 86 stars, is to be mounted at the church. Dr. Burr R. McKnight, pastor of the church, will be in charge and will be assisted by Rev. Thomas Pollard and Rev. Norris A. White, D. D.
